

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
By Speaker

Ottawa, May 30th.—While the King and Queen move across Canada, capturing the hearts of the people of the Dominion everywhere, by their unadorned simplicity and charm, their friendliness and their obvious faith and devotion to the ideals of the British people, the parliament at Ottawa continues with the King's business. The session is nearing its close, but there is still a difference of opinion whether it will be another week or two weeks before it will have finished with its labors. The main measure standing still in the way is the general legislation on mortgages, which is very comprehensive and of such importance that members want to be settled down in all its implications before they register their vote. The intention is to have it fully discussed in the banking and commerce committee of the house of commons. It is just possible that the Minister of Finance will decide to withdraw it for this session and leave it over for fuller discussion in the next session. As it will be recalled, this legislation deals with the whole mortgage structure throughout Canada, that is in both city and country, seeks to bring mortgage within a definite relationship to the appraisal values of property and to get interest rates uniformly down to about five per cent. The central mortgage bank to be created under the act will have authority to issue bonds to a maximum of 200 million dollars, there to be issued in the form of fifty per cent of losses sustained by lending companies in writing down mortgages.

Opposition to the measure already being in parliament points to the great obligations assumed by the government under the proposed legislation. If the principle were ultimately accepted to other countries, which might be equally deserving, the new obligations would be tremendous. Many lending companies might object to the rigid control proposed by the government. The law might clash with provincial legislative rights in the matter of mortgages. The law dealing against borrowers from private lenders and against companies which might not become members. All these questions have been discussed in the past. The finance minister has explained that no compulsion will be exercised on the provinces. Cooperation from lending companies is entirely voluntary. The bill will make available the national credit "in terms of power need for what is generally recognized as a great problem." The measure is very close to the heart of the finance minister. It is the result of many months of careful and searching thought.

The Salt Fish Board.
The general program of giving aid to the primary industries included in the agricultural bills, is now being extended to the fishing industry. An appropriation of $80,000 for this purpose appears in the estimates. It is the government's intention to create a salt fish board, which will be composed of experts in the business. The duty of the board will be to investigate and report on the marketing of salt fish and to seek new avenues of export. They will study and recommend modern methods of curing and packing as well as marketing. It was explained in the house that the fishermen depict a most fascinating story of rubber in visual form. It also includes a full scale tire factory in operation, producing a tire every four seconds. The exhibit is a most interesting and instructive one, illustrating the essential part rubber has come to play in everyday life.

Probably the most unique and attractive exhibit of the fair is the "World's Fish and Fishery Exhibit." It is the actual life-size reproduction of a thriving farm, live stock, and the exhibit shows the fish and the world's fish. It is a most interesting and instructive one, illustrating the essential part rubber has come to play in everyday life. The exhibit depicts a most fascinating story of rubber in visual form. It also includes a full scale tire factory in operation, producing a tire every four seconds. The exhibit is a most interesting and instructive one, illustrating the essential part rubber has come to play in everyday life.

Members expressed regret that the system of bounding not only fish but also other marine products, was to be resorted to, but it was essential at this time on account of conditions prevailing.

Social Credit Recommendations

Defeated.—A great many matters are before the house in the dying days of the session. The budget resolutions have been discussed and passed. The monetary theories of the Social Credit movement have been made by the speaker. He adherents to induce the government to issue currency for the direct financing of public works and other governmental expenditure. With the dangers of inflation which most members believed to be entailed, plans of this kind were defeated.

The Price of Radio.
Spokesmen of the government have expressed the determination of the government to see that the price of radio sold in this country reflects fairly Canadian conditions and that no profiteering is involved. An investigation is being made into patent laws on radio manufacturing to ascertain what if any effect the application of these laws has up on existing prices.

The Senate on Railway Problems.
Senator Ferguson in the upper house has expressed the deepest regret that the result of cooperative enterprise measures in railway administration would not fill the hollow of our hands.

The greatest danger lay in the continued indifference to the colossal waste. "It may be important" he said, "to catch the will of the people, but that is not the duty of the senate."

He pointed with gravity to the shoals that lay ahead for the senate. The greatest danger lay in the continued indifference to the colossal waste. "It may be important" he said, "to catch the will of the people, but that is not the duty of the senate."

CHURCH REOPENING SERVICES
Sunday, May 28th was a most auspicious day in the history of the United Church of Strathmore, when reopening and dedicating services were held, with a capacity congregation both morning and evening.

The church has undergone extensive improvement and the changed appearance was the subject of very many eulogistic comments.

The pews in themselves are a marked improvement, which with the commodious choir loft and pulpit, the soft by shaded walls, the artistic carpeting, the full scale tire factory in operation, producing a tire every four seconds. The exhibit is a most interesting and instructive one, illustrating the essential part rubber has come to play in everyday life.

The music for the day was well rendered and added much to the general excellence of the service. Rev. V. M. Gilbert was assisted in the services by Rev. Geo. W. Lang, R. A. L. H. of St. Michael's Church, Strathmore.

McKelvey of Carleton Place and Rev. J. Gordon Brown, M. A. B. D. of Robertson United Church, Edmonton, who was the preacher at both services.

Mr. Brown is an exceptionally able speaker and his discourses held the rapt attention of his hearers. He took as his text for the evening sermon, "Lord I believe; help thou mine Unbelief."

He prophesied the point that a faith and a spirit of optimism would carry one much further than one of despair. He quoted from many well known characters of the Bible, then one's duty and exhortation to be made to react in one's growth and development. If not in a spirit of courage and with faith.

As group exercises of this character, he presented a most interesting and instructive one, illustrating the essential part rubber has come to play in everyday life.

Paul about to be sacrificed and Christ on the Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Hector McGregor who spent the weekend in Strathmore, accompanied Mrs. C. P. Johnston.

Miss Mary Shene and Miss Grace Davis of Carleton Place, were weekend guests of Mrs. McGregor following their sports, May 20.

Hubby Seales has returned to Strathmore for a visit.

Sudden Death in Winnipeg Of Mr. Johnston.
Strathmore friends will extend sincere sympathy to Mrs. Hector McGregor, who learned of the sudden death of her husband, Mr. H. Johnston, who died at Winnipeg, Man., on Friday, June 26th. Mr. Johnston had been ill some weeks previous, but had quite recovered and was busy Wednesday driving disabled veterans on the occasion of the Royal Visit. Friday he was stricken with a heart attack and passed away at once. He is survived by his widow and daughter Helene McGregor. Interment will be made in Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Hector McGregor, Jr. joined Mrs. Johnston in Calgary Tuesday to go to Vancouver.

Mr. Johnston was in his 60th year, a number of years in Calgary where his family have many friends who will keenly regret his early demise.

S. J. Dornan, C. W. N. A. Representative

And before we knew it, here were our king and queen. Just as we pictured them. A couple of good, conscientious people. As one little girl wrote in the Calgary Herald: "The royal visit had been a number of years ago. We did not get nearly as good a look as we wanted. So we camped down 2nd St. West and saw them again on 7th Ave. Then went for a good refreshing cup of tea, and saw them again on 1st St. West."

Everywhere we went afterwards, we heard people saying what a good spot they had chosen to see the procession, and how they saw it all three different times. So we are not the least bit outstanding. However our seat did only cost a nickel and we did have the pleasure of picking up the royal party in the street and seeing it all that night.

AN ERROR
The idea had become general that a number of the representatives of The Weekly Press of the Province were to be among those present to receive Their Majesties in Edmonton, June 3. This is incorrect. We are to have preferred positions during the ceremony, where we can see and hear to advantage. For this entire time is much preferable, having this advantage with no responsibility attached.

E. J. Garland In Strathmore, June 13
Arrangements are under way for an evening meeting in Strathmore, June 13th, at which E. J. Garland, Dominion Organizer for the C. P. W. will give an address. Mr. Garland is a well known and very able speaker who will be greeted in Strathmore, and he will be greeted with a full house.

Tudor

Their Majesties have come and gone. And your correspondent is certain that they have been most successful in their mission. They began with, she had no seat booked and was rather dreading the ordeal of waiting for hours among perching humanity, she went to the Capitol to see Errol Flynn, and kept thinking what an attractive girl she would make.

At 2 o'clock, she left the theatre expecting to fight her way through crowds of excited people. To her surprise, 38th Avenue was almost deserted. A few enthusiasts were sitting on the sidewalks with their feet in the gutter, but there was much sidewalk still unoccupied. The natural thing to do was to sit down, too.

Along came a boy with Calgary friends. She sought one out and sat on the second section while she read the first. It was most undignified; for the girls from the White Lunch, and the stores opposite, were sitting quite properly on chairs.

The Cadets lining 8th Ave. had with them, her Majesty's bayonets are attached, all unheeded by the Cadets. The Cadets looked so very young and their boyish expressions were in such contrast to the awful knives that lay so peacefully by their shoulders.

The rifles seemed such superfluous and unnecessary pieces of equipment. They were really pieces of their kind and they were peace loving rifles.

However, we were so glad to be sitting down comfortably on the sidewalk, and our neighbors of the gutter were so friendly and gay, so we dwell on such details.

A gentleman in grey came trotting along and spoke to the Cadet in front of us. He spoke with such obvious pride. The Cadet looked so very disinterested and moody. The gentleman in grey looked away. He said to me, "That's my son. That's my boy." As if I needed to be told. Where else would you see that look of "idyllic rhapsody" save on the face of a parent? And where else would you find that look of complete detachment from the fact of a son in front of his fellows?

My neighbor of the pavement informed me that the royal train was 20 minutes late, so I settled myself to wait. But the next moment, Boom went a gun. Their Majesties had arrived. More Booms followed; each more sure of itself than the last; until the final one was a "real ringer" for his father.

Then—Cheer in the distance. And now, here were the romantic Strathmore. Here, the royal visit had been a number of years ago. We did not get nearly as good a look as we wanted. So we camped down 2nd St. West and saw them again on 7th Ave. Then went for a good refreshing cup of tea, and saw them again on 1st St. West.

LIONS CLUB AUCTION

The Lions Club were today to hold an auction of the property of the club. The auction was held in the Strathmore Hotel on Wednesday night. A spirit of hilarity prevailed throughout the evening and all members really enjoyed themselves. Mr. Berman, the District Governor, spoke to a group of enthusiastic listeners for some time and held their interest throughout. The Lions Club presented the Strathmore group with a song and also a road sign. Further plans were also made for the club. The Lions Club will be in touch with Leonard Van Tighem or Ralph Martin.

The club is planning to raise money through a combined Auction Sale, Sports Day and Dance in order to repair and improve the swimming pool. In connection with the Auction, members are canvassing for discarded articles which may be used and have so far received exceptional cooperation. Local citizens are being asked to lend their aid in contributing to the club's efforts to give the swimmers a more satisfactory pool.

WEDDINGS
LONGBOTHAM—KEELER
A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Sacred Heart Church Tuesday, May 25th when David Boyd Longbottom and Miss Pauline Keeler were united in marriage. Rev. Father Lever performed the ceremony.

The bride made a very winsome picture as she entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage to the groom.

She chose for the occasion a Queen's Blue lace dress with blue accessories. Her bouquet was a lovely combination of pink roses and ferns.

Miss Mary Keeler, sister of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a white dress with hat and shoes to match and carried a bouquet of deep pink roses.

Mr. John Keeler supported the groom as best man. Mrs. Keeler, mother of the bride wore a very becoming ensemble of brown silk crepe, with brown hat and shoes.

Following the ceremony at the church the guests numbering about fifty motored to the bride's home, where refreshments were extended and the wedding breakfast served. The toast to the bride was happily proposed by Father Lever and briefly responded by the groom.

After a honeymoon in Banff the young couple will reside in Banff.

ANNOUNCEMENT
The engagement is announced of Dorothy, the younger daughter of Mr. Murray, and the late Mr. H. J. Murray of Three Hills, to Mr. Archie Gray, of Calgary, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Gray of Strathmore. The marriage will take place on June 17th.

Their many friends unite in wishing them a very happy wedded life.

Edmonton Letter

Edmonton, May 31st.
The greatest event in Alberta's history is the visit of the King and Queen to this province. In Medicine Hat, Calgary and Banff last week and in Jasper and Edmonton this week. It far transcends all all ordinary and even extraordinary political concepts. It puts ordinary petty provincial politics and theories and "isms" deep in the shade.

The royal visit to Alberta has happened to come "T" an opportune time as some observers declare it is the nick of time to oppose by its force the forces of democracy. It is in this province and between the province and dominion, and to wipe out the danger of ultimate separation of Alberta from the principles of British democracy itself as the result of ambitious petty politics.

In spite of the fact that some of the interest might have been expected to have been because of long preparations to receive Their Majesties and because of the royal visit, it began after nine days of widely-enthusiastic receptions in other parts of Canada, those who saw the King and Queen in this province, even at a distance or much preferred, having this advantage with no responsibility attached.

John Martin Massey-Harris Representative

Mr. Martin, representative of the Massey-Harris Co. of Toronto, with Mr. Boucher of Calgary, called at the Standard office Tuesday.

"The great rates of the past week," stated Mr. Martin, "have gladdened the hearts of the West and came just in time to remove the growing fear of threatening danger to the young province."

"No one travelling through the farm lands can but be impressed with the advantages of the latest power equipment now available to the farmer, and its assistance in helping him to get his crops done to where he can produce his crops in view of present prices."

Mr. Martin particularly emphasized the one way diesel and small combine in greatly reducing operating expenses. He stated that the new implements proving that sales for them are being greatly increased in many sections.

THE SPORTS LEDGER

SOFTBALL.
The Strathmore Club held a tournament on the 24th of May with nine teams entered, in which the Calgary A. B. C. Battery team won.

The tournament was held at Nightingale, Lethbridge, Alberta, Va. A. H. C., Knights of Pythias, Strathmore, Cubs. The local team got off to a good start, winning the first game, but losing the semi-finals, but lost to the Battery team in the end. The tournament was quite a success and netted the Club a fair working capital.

The "old swimmer" hole is again opened up and already numbers of enthusiastic dolphins are to be seen piloting one another in the late afternoon.

The bowling tournament is well on towards the final day, and team standings are beginning to appear more definite. This week's highs go to Mrs. Pessenden and Ralph Martin, while high lone is McGregor.

Out there, beyond the willow on the hill
That drifts its leaves across the sky's far shore,
And the ground's smooth crest, shadowless and still.

Far beyond sight, past the horizon's door,
There lies the fairest valley, the valley upon,
Hidden and unexplored forevermore
There the long meadows are, golden and green,
There forest ferns lift wavering, feathered frond,
And little streams go shimmering, all unseen,

To slip into some secret, star-strewn pond,
Brighter each blossom, and taller every tree,
The fairest valley is ever the valley beyond.

No foot shall ever touch, no eye shall ever see,
Ever the woods are silent, ever the air is still.
No one has ever been, no one shall ever be.

In the valley beyond, never and never will,
Yet there it lies, else man shall dream no more,
Forever just beyond the willow on the hill.
("The Hidden Valley" by Craig Rice).

Rockyford

The long school holiday of last week was equally enjoyed by both teachers and pupils, and many of these had the pleasure of going to Calgary to see their Majesties in the two hour visit. Of the hundreds who saw them from this district all were impressed with the dignity of his Majesty and the charm and friendliness of his gracious Queen.

The 24th of May was rather quiet celebrated here; two ball games were played in the afternoon at which time ten Rockyford teams took the "long end of the score" in the evening a very enjoyable dance was conducted at which time the local orchestra supplied the music.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. John Bragg is recovering nicely from her recent injury. It is to be hoped she be home from the hospital the latter part of the week.

The Baseball and Softball teams were rather busy on Sunday, the Senior team playing at Acme where they lost in a score of four to one in favor of the Acme boys, the younger boys playing at Carbon, also lost their game, while the girls at home tried to uphold the honor of the town by defeating the girls of Glendon.

On Monday night, May 22nd the married women tried their hand at softball and challenged the girls; the girls are deciding they need more coaching before they play them again.

Mr and Mrs A. H. Erwell journeyed to Red Deer over the week end and Miss Gladys Knapp went with them and they all had the pleasure of calling on Mr and Mrs Geo. Thibault in their new home.

After the meeting of the Rockyford Eastera Star Order on Tuesday May 16th, the members and the members of the Masonic Lodge joined in a social evening. Speeches, contests and community singing formed the entertainment. Mr Ed Ross won the Clifton Pin contest. Mrs George Thibault who is leaving the district was presented with a beautiful Silver Salad Server by the worthy Matron Mrs. Jones, and extended the regards of the Chapter in their loss but good wishes for their future in Red Deer.

Mr Tony Veiker had the misfortune to be in line for a fast baseball bat on Wednesday evening at practice. His chest was struck and it was feared that he had suffered internal injuries.
After consulting a doctor he feels it will just take a short time to be back to normal again.

One of the first baseball games of the season was played by the Rocky-ford and Delisle teams at Delisle on Sunday afternoon. Each one felt the need of more organization and practice. A very large score resulted in a one lead for Delisle.

DOIN THE WORLD'S FAIR (By Byrne M. Fisher)

New York has been kind to me and I am thankful for any success that I may have attained, but there will only be one country, and that is here I intend to live. After I have retired, Prince Edward Island will always be home to me. Those were the words of George Cook, high ranking official of the R. C. A. as we interviewed him in his luxurious apartment on the top floor of the R. C. A. World's Fair Building. A grey haired, pleasant man past middle life, Mr Cook was born in Alberton, P. E. I., entered radio in 1909 practically at its birth, and today is recognized as one of the greatest living authorities on all phases of the industry.

We witnessed our first demonstration of television in the R. C. A. building, as an announcer interviewed people from a motor car in another part of the grounds. Clear and sharp, the reproduction was like nothing more than a close-up on the motion picture screen. Yet actually the light waves were being conveyed through the ether, along with the voices of the speakers, and were being transmitted to the receiver in front of us. In answer to a question Mr Cook informed us that television, while it will not become available to the general public without the investment of a tremendous amount of money, is definitely assured for the future.

We have been stammering into Canadians all over the lot during the last week. Entering the Iceland Building on the Court of Peace, we conversed in perfect English with a blonde icelandic girl, a moment before, had been speaking the stilted speech of the Norse with abandon. While she was showing us about the ground floor of the Iceland exhibit, which illustrates the numerous industries of the country, stressing particularly the importance of fishing and the potential value of Iceland as an aviation base between Europe and America, we asked if she came from Reykjavik, the only town we cared to take a chance on pronouncing. She smiled. "No, I'm from Akureyri, Manitoba." It seems that the exhibit officials, faced with the problem of finding intelligent, attractive Icelandic girls who could converse fluently in English, deemed it expedient to fall back on descendants of Icelanders from the Dominion.

Four of the six girls employed are from Canada. Only two were brought with the exhibit from Iceland. The Canadians are Miss Margaret Sigfusson, Akureyri, Man., and the Misses Mild Anderson, Christine Johnson and Josephine Johansson, all of Winnipeg.
And as though that wasn't enough,
"Canucks to find showing their talents in competition with the fairest of the known world, we wandered down to a commercial exhibit, where amusemen-tated rumor had it an offer to give away hot soup was facing somebody or other with bankruptcy, and met Miss Patricia Shale of North Cliff Avenue, Montreal, among the home economists employed there.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science Churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is Psalm 92:1 One of the Scriptural citations is "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth" (Genesis 1:1). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in superstition which does not proceed from this great and only cause."

themselves on the Rockyford Grounds on the morning of May 21st, with a good crowd in attendance. The home-team had the advantage of one in the final score.

Mrs John Bragg had the misfortune of burning herself with a pot of hot tea over a week ago, and as it refused to heal it should it be necessary for her to be taken to the hospital in Calgary, where she will have to remain for a while yet.

The Rockyford Post office is being extended giving a larger space and it will also be closer to the windows at the front of the building. This will make a very great improvement and much more cheerful location for the postmaster and his assistants.

Both the home of Mr Cartwright and that of Mr T. Fisher are being enlarged and they will make a great improvement in their beautiful grounds.

SEARLE PRECIPITATION REPORT

Compiled from 180 Rain Gauge Reports.

The precipitation which has occurred from April 1st to May 31st, inclusive, combined with that which occurred during the months of August, September and October last, and weighted for wheat average, indicates that the moisture condition for the three Provinces as a unit, is 95 per cent of the longtime average or normal.

The moisture condition of Alberta is 90 per cent; of Saskatchewan, 100 per cent and of Manitoba, 95 per cent.
Past records reveal that seldom if ever have rains fallen at such a needed time as those which occurred on May 21st. The greater part of the Western wheat crop was on the verge of becoming seriously damaged from drought. That danger, fortunately, has now been averted, for the time being, in most areas. The very generous rains occurred in central and southern Saskatchewan and in central and northern Alberta. Southern Alberta and northern Saskatchewan, and Manitoba received but little of the splendid rainfall.

A. Homeyard has gone to Vancouver to spend the summer months.

A group of Calgary young people including Miss L. McIntosh (formerly of Edmonton) as organist, conducted the United Church Service on Sunday.
Rev. Mund gave the address.

Mr and Mrs J. E. McAdam and fam-the T. M. Foster home.

Mr and Mrs G. Thibault and Billy stopped at the E. Moe home last Thursday night, and left Friday morning for their new home at Red Deer.

Mr H. Dain, thought still in the hospital, is a little better and may soon be able to come home.

A good general rain fell last week.

Mr and Mrs L. D. Hegin and two boys of Calgary spent the afternoon and evening with T. Moe and family on Sunday.

At the W. I. Meeting on May 15th, Mrs J. Garlick was "showered" with handkerchiefs. Mrs E. Albertson presented them with a very witty speech.
Mrs T. M. Foster and Miss L. Watts of Racine, Wisconsin, gave interesting talks on the San Francisco Fair. Mrs for Somerset, England, and everyone M. Drake served "delicious refreshments" which her a safe and pleasant trip.

* No better illustration of what modern business, in its organization, can do in co-operating to further the interests of those other industries dependent on it, is to be had than that of the Agricultural Implement Industry in its relation to farming.

Its inception was the making available to other farmers the tools which one ingenious farmer developed to lighten his own labors and enable him to accomplish more in the always too short season. Its support by farmers to the point which has enabled the building of organizations financially and technically strong enough to carry on large scale experimental engineering has increased its efficiency and usefulness to the benefit of every farmer.

Ever alert to the immediate problems of the farmer, whether it be self-drilling, which it enabled the farmer to combat by producing and perfecting the One-Way Disc Seeder, or the need for still lower costs of production which it helps to solve as in the case of the adapting of the low cost harvesting combine to the needs of all farmers, both large and small, by developing the New Small Power-Take-Off Combines, its experimental departments are even now busy engaged in laboratory and field work anticipating the ever-new demands which farming continues to make on those whose life work it is.

Early associations with the pioneer farmer brought realization of his need for financial assistance and no source has been as liberal and none less costly than the implement maker in providing the necessary equipment to enable the farmer to reap full benefit from his land and efforts.

The urge for greatest volume to keep manufacturing costs down has ever dictated as low a selling price as was consistent with good business principles and prices of farm implements in Canada are cheaper than on any other continent in the world outside North America. Canadian prices compare most favorably with those in United States where the benefit of the world's greatest implement market is accorded the industry.

Massey-Harris regards highly its reputation for co-operating with the farmers of Canada and the co-operation it receives from the support and good-will of farmers generally.

Ardenode

Little Mary Melechuk had the misfortune to fracture a leg a few days ago, while jumping off a chair. Mary will be confined to home for around 6 weeks. She hopes by then, summer holidays will be just around the corner.

"Ardenode" was very well represented at the Royal Visit in Calgary, Friday last. A night I don't think anyone of us will easily forget.

Mr. Also Melechuk, Jr. is spending a few days in Calgary visiting with his brother George, from Swallow.

Mrs. Ethel Lewis spent a couple of days visiting with friends in Calgary last week.

Congratulations were showered on Mrs. T. J. Korb on Monday last, the occasion being her 71st Birthday. Many friends and neighbors called during the day to wish her very many happy returns. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon also, and Mrs. J. Schmitts of Beiseker were seen among the guests. A beautiful cake adorned with 71 candles centred the table. Many presents were in evidence and a very delightful day was spent. We all join hands and wish Mrs. Korb many more birthdays to come.

THE ROYAL VISIT
ITS SIGNIFICANCE
AND EFFECT

The King and Queen have come, and by their visit, fleeting though it was, every loyal Canadian of whatever age has become more intensely loyal, or 'loyaller and loyaller' in the one-time words of The Duke of Windsor.

By their kindly, human and understanding sympathy with all walks of life, yet never for a moment departing from their royal demeanor, that intangible bond which binds the component parts of the Empire, has been rendered much more deeply indelible.

The quiet serious dignity of the king, the indescribable charm of the queen, have won the hearts of all. Long may they together reign as King and Queen.

It is a strange thing, this devotion to a tradition that has warmed the hearts of thousands from coast to coast, and sure must be the foundation upon which it is built, and true to its highest standard must be the occupants of the throne that creates this attitude of loving admiration, that has in it so much of fear. We say with grateful hearts, we are proud of our British tradition and proud very proud of our Canadian heritage and the possibilities that await her future development.

God save the King and Queen.

MORE INTENSIVE RESEARCH

Progress in the field of Research is continuing every year to open up new uses for products hitherto confined to a limited area.

One gauge in wonder at the far-sighted purposes for which various products can be used.

For instance—

Six hundred pounds of soy beans will be used in 1940 in the manufacture of each car made by one of the largest manufacturers of popular price automobiles.

Two factories are now being built at a cost of $11,000,000 for the production of silk stockings from substances derived from coal, air and water.

"Canada must enter into intensive scientific research to find new industrial uses for what it is going to retain and expand her wheat markets and keep pace with the rest of the world," said Cecil Lamont on his return from Columbus, Ohio, in Columbus he represented the North-West Grain Dealers' Association at the meeting of the Farm Chemurgic Council of the United States. Industrialists and agriculturists from all parts of the States were present.

Large concerns such as the Dupont interests, Corn Products Refining Company, the Ford Motor Company and others had their research men present to outline the latest developments in utilizing products of farm, forest and mine in industrial research.

Research is continuing to yield many new industrial uses for soy beans, corn and synthetic wool from skin milk. Virtually no comparable scientific work is being done with wheat, although the United States Government and the Port laboratories are commencing to direct attention to this cereal.

"Expansion of markets for wheat is the West's greatest problem today. Science has found an answer to many industrial problems and it may hold a solution to the surplus wheat problem."

RADIO OPINIONS
AND NEWS
PUBLISHED BY THE C.F.A.C.

Radio's Welcome To Royalty—

In a total of one and one-half hours of broadcasting the events of the Royal Visit to Calgary, probably the most appreciated commentary was that of Jack Bennett's from the Council Chamber of the City Hall. In a low, well modulated voice described the historical scene of the entrance of Their Majesties to the flower bedecked room, the presentation of an illuminated address by Mayor Andrew Davidson, and the presentation of forty-three Alberta residents to Their Majesties.

Other locations for microphones were along the route at Advantageous points from which a complete word picture was given to those who were unable to view the procession. All three Calgary radio stations combined their facilities, the program being split three ways at the C.F.A.C. control room, and distributed to each station.

Your columnist had the pleasure of "covering" this great event, armed with C.F.A.C. credentials, a portable radio, and a camera, and was able to see first hand the scenes which announcers described at each vantage point—which reminds us of an incident which occurred when—but that's another story and will have to wait until next week.

P. S.—The greatest thrill received by your scribe was an incident just before the Royal visit, when, standing on the roof of the C.P.R. depot, Her Majesty the Queen waved at us—we bowed—and she waved again.

Amateur Contest Finals—

And so the C.F.A.C. Southern Alberta Amateur Contest is over, and the winners have been chosen. The twenty-six contestants were asked to endure quite a nervous strain, since they had to wait some time for the finals, and, on May 24th, had to appear in front of a strange and critical audience. Then the six winning acts were kept further in suspense by being asked to stay over until the following evening to appear on the stage of the Palace Theatre.

The first evening, the winners were announced, but not in the order of merit. But on May 25, the Contest wound up with a grand finale—the contestants gave their final performance—and the prizes were given.

Joan Walton of Medicine Hat took "Top honors." She was presented with Forty Dollars in cash, an invitation to spend a week at Sylvan Lake as guest of the Sylvan Lake Chamber of Commerce, and an invitation to appear at the Uptown Theatre, also in Sylvan Lake, for one week, with suitable remuneration.

Rhoda Scobbie, from Vulcan was second. She was presented with Twenty-five Dollars. Winner, (or winners) of Third Prize was the "Discompanied Girls Trio" from Red Deer. Alton Rogers, Beth Rogers and Marie Townsend were given Third Prize money, Fifteen Dollars.

Jack Pickering, Jr. of High River was fourth. His sister Alice, accompanied him at the piano. Jack was presented with Ten Dollars. Fifth place was won by John Carr Robinson, of Innisfail. He was also given Ten Dollars. Sixth place went to Henry Herbert of Pincher Creek, who was presented with Five Dollars.

May we, on behalf of C.F.A.C. extend our heartiest congratulations to these winners of the C.F.A.C. Southern Alberta Amateur Contest. But further, may we extend to all amateurs who entered this contest our sincerest thanks for the splendid work done by them, and the sportsmanship they showed, even though they didn't happen to be among the prize winners this time.

Carlsland

Mr. M. J. Mutch returned last week from Honolulu. Mr. Mutch and Jimmy are expected this week.

Rev. Longmire, formerly of Carls-land was the guest speaker in the United Church on Sunday.

Mr. Art Patchwell had the misfortune to have his team run away, throwing him from the wagon. He was quite seriously injured, but is now progressing favorably in a Calgary hospital.

The P. B. Club will meet next week, June 7th, at the home of Mrs. Robert Groves.

Beauty for YOU

The Secrets
of Good Looks

by

A DAILY SCHEDULE
FOR BUSY WOMEN

For readers with little spare time for extended self-beautifying, this article outlines a daily routine that even the busiest woman can fit into her schedule.

First comes a few setting up exercises, carried out briskly. Then your hair needs vigorous brushing from the roots right to the ends.

Cleanliness is essential, so wash your face, neck, and hands with gentle palmolive soap. It's made with nothing olive oil and really helps cleanse, smooth and youthful your skin. And if you adopt the "six minute make-up", using a "Three-Purpose" cream, it will solve your makeup problems.

You simply cannot afford to neglect your hands. Rub them at odd moments with Italian balm to help keep them smooth and white.

A few other little duties that add so much to feminine charms—Clean your teeth morning and night, and after meals; look to your nails; and to avoid offending, dab a little odororant cream under your armpits.

tion B, Montreal, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Pawkes and family, Mr.
Norman Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. H. E.
Thomson and Margaret were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pass of Standish on Sunday.

Mr. Kenny Watts of the Air Force was home for the week end.

Mr. Johnson and the misfortune to get her finger in the feed grinder last Saturday. It is healing up nicely now.

Mr. Nellie Hansen is laid up with lumbago. We hope she will soon be around again.

Mr. Douglas Wille of Lacar is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. A. Miller for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and family natured to Lake McGregor on Sunday where they met Mrs. Miller's folks from Stavely.

The Misses Nancy and Margaret Pawkes, Norman Ellis, Earl Baker,
Mr. and Mrs. Mackie and family, motored to Banff on Sunday, and saw the King and Queen again as they were leaving for Revelstoke, B. C.

Miss Jean Thomson was operated on for guttie Monday morning. Reports are that she is doing nicely.
